EVENING LECTURES AND MUSICAL EVENTS

201 Rosie the Riveter

Monday, February 7, 7:30 p.m. Hefner Auditorium
Mary Ann Jung

In World War II, women joined the U.S. workforce by the millions to replace men who had gone off to fight. Mary Ann Jung presents the delightful story of Rosie the Riveter, through the eyes of Rose Leigh Monroe. For many years, Rosie worked at the largest aircraft factory in the world: Willow Run in Michigan. Discover which came first: the Rosie posters, the song, or real women who worked in factories to help America win the war. Who was the real Rosie? The answer is fun and riveting!

Mary Ann Jung is an award-winning actress and Smithsonian Scholar who performs shows about amazing women in history (www.HistoryAliveShows.com). She has appeared on CNN and Good Morning America and has done numerous shows for the National Archives and the Smithsonian Museums. She has been a lead actress and Royal Court Director at the Maryland Renaissance Festival for 40 years.

202 Women Heroes

Thursday, February 10, 7:30 p.m. Parker Hall
Ann McCallum Staats

Ann McCallum Staats

Throughout history, from the American Revolution to modern times, women have been courageous leaders and role-models. For example, meet World War I telephone operator Grace Banker who, eager to do her part, maintained her critical job mere yards behind the front lines in France. Also, there is Oveta Culp Hobby, a dynamo who became the first director of the Women's Army Corps (WAC), and never mind that she had to wash and iron her only uniform every night before bed. What must it have been like for Charity Adams Earley, commanding officer for the only African American WAC unit overseas during WWII? Fast forward to modern times and you will meet Silver Star recipient Leigh Ann Hester and Major General Deb Kotulich.
